

Pic 1: Open discussion on knowledge management during one of the module presentations

Pic 2: Participants record the story of a community member (far right) who is participating in Titukulane

Pic 3: Participants drafting their story after the field visit, which was later shared with the whole group for peer review